

The COOK HOSPITAL is pleased to announce we are NOW OFFERING low-dose lung cancer screening!

About the low-dose lung cancer screening

A low-dose CT scan is a special kind of x-ray that takes multiple pictures as you lie on a table that slides in and out of a short machine. A computer then combines these images into a detailed picture of your lungs. A study on early detection of lung cancer found that the low-dose cancer screening test can reduce mortality for those at high risk. If you are a current or former smoker over the age of 50, you could meet the high-risk eligibility criteria.
